

Develop Israel with Israel Bonds

TUESDAY,
AUGUST 12, 1958

THE JERUSALEM POST

PRICE: 150 PRUTA
VOL. XXV, No. 9581

INVEST
CONSULT RASSCO
TEL AVIV, 1 MAR SHAI ST. PHONE: 693173, 479476

NATO Ministerial Takes Held Likely

BRUSSELS (Reuters).—The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, is expected to attend a meeting of NATO in Paris on September 3, a high Belgian Foreign Ministry official said here on Monday.

The official said the NATO Council meeting is likely to be attended by "a galaxy of Foreign Ministers which will make it in effect a session at ministerial level."

The official said a formal decision to hold the meeting—which has been urged by Belgium and other NATO members in view of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev meeting—will be taken on Wednesday when the NATO Council of permanent representatives holds its weekly meeting in Paris.

Mr. Herter, who will be in Paris with President Eisenhower, is expected to give the NATO allies assurances that the President will abide by the terms of the alliance in his talks with the Soviet leader. He will also hear the views of some of the smaller NATO nations on the meeting.

Turkey, Greece and Portugal would also probably be represented by their Foreign Ministers. Consultations on this question were also going on with Norway and Denmark.

Asked whether Foreign Ministers from the bigger NATO countries would attend, the official said that was not yet clear, but that Mr. Maurice Couve de Murville and Mr. Giuseppe Peella, the French and Italian Foreign Ministers, "will be on the spot and could easily attend."

Observers here say a NATO Permanent Council confirmation of the decision to hold a ministerial meeting will be a "prestige" victory for Belgium which has been promoting the idea of closer and "more democratic" consultations between NATO allies. The Belgian Government this month had sent a memorandum to the NATO allies saying that Belgium wanted it clearly understood that no decision affecting the small partners of the alliance should be taken at the meeting between Messrs. Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Soviet Envoy Meets With De Gaulle

PARIS (AFP).—The Soviet Ambassador, Mr. Sergei Vinogradov, on Sunday held a long conversation with President de Gaulle, the Soviet Embassy disclosed yesterday. Details of the talks, requested by the Ambassador, were not revealed.

Eight Hungarians Reported Executed

VIENNA (Reuters).—Travelers arriving here on Monday from Budapest said that the death sentences imposed there earlier this year on eight workers and others on charges arising from the 1956 revolt had now all been carried out.

Usually well-informed circles in Budapest believed that the death sentences had been carried out hurriedly before the usual amnesty always declared on August 20—the day of the Hungarian Constitution.

No official news of the sentences has yet been released, but reports from usually reliable sources said that the death sentences on the eight had been upheld by a Budapest Court of Appeal a fortnight ago.

Some 15 other prisoners had been sentenced to terms of imprisonment on similar charges, they said.

KHRUSHCHEV MAY GO TO E. BERLIN RALLY

BERLIN (Reuters).—Mr. Nikita Khrushchev may head the Soviet delegation to attend the 10th anniversary celebration of the foundation of the East German state on October 7, a Soviet Embassy spokesman said in East Berlin on Monday.

Flood Wipes Out Mexican Farm Group

IRAPUATO, Mexico (UPI).—Flood waters of the Silao River wiped out an entire central Mexican farm community over the weekend. Six hundred persons were homeless and awaited emergency shelters after 100 adobe houses were destroyed on the Medrano communal farm.

BARELY VISIBLE

LONDON (Reuters).—A naked man walking along a street near the Houses of Parliament here on Monday told a policeman who stopped him that he was invisible.

The man was quickly hustled into a police van and later taken to hospital.

Moscow Blames Laos for Threat Of 'Civil War'

The Soviet Foreign Ministry on Monday blamed the Royal Lao Government for what it said was a serious threat of civil war in Laos. Tass reported. It said the "main cause" of the present situation in Laos was the violation of the 1954 Geneva and Vietnamese agreements.

The Laos Government, the Soviet statement said, "has evaded control by the International Commission of the Imports of Arms and Military Personnel under the Geneva agreements, the Government of Laos has concluded a pact which openly legalizes the presence of U.S. military personnel in Laos and gives them control of the Laos army."

In Peiking, the Chinese Foreign Minister, Marshal Chen Yi, on Monday night accused "imperialists" of engineering a new conspiracy of aggression in the Far East, especially in Indo-China. His speech at an Indonesian Embassy National Day reception was described by observers as the strongest public statement by a Chinese Communist leader on the Indo-China situation since fighting between Government troops and guerrillas flared up in northern Laos earlier this month.

Re-occupy Posts

Military sources in Vietnamese said Laotian Government troops are re-occupying deserted outposts in the region of recent fighting near the frontier of Communist North Vietnam. Officials say there have been sporadic clashes but no major encounters in the past fortnight.

In London, informed sources said Britain on Monday asked Russia to support a proposal for the dispatch of a U.N. observer to the trouble area in Indo-China.

Grivas 'Ready To Head People's Call'

ATHENS (Reuters).—Gen. George Grivas, former EOKA leader in Cyprus, told crowds in northern Greece during the weekend that "the country cannot live" with its present leadership, and he was ready to seek power if he could be called to power through "resolutions of popular organizations and the working classes."

Grivas, who has charged the Government with betraying the Greek Cypriot cause by signing the Zurich and London agreements making Cyprus an independent republic, spent the weekend in Epirus after having talks with King Paul in Corfu.

Confers with King

Premier Constantine Karamanlis, whose Government has counter-charged Grivas with endangering the Cyprus settlement, flew to Corfu on Monday to meet the King, but officials said there was no connection between the two audiences.

In his speeches in Epirus, the former underground leader, after suggesting how he could be called to power, told the crowds: "I am ready to assume the struggle. If I am convinced that the majority of the people actually ask for me, I will not hesitate to respond to their call, using, naturally, the established lawful means."

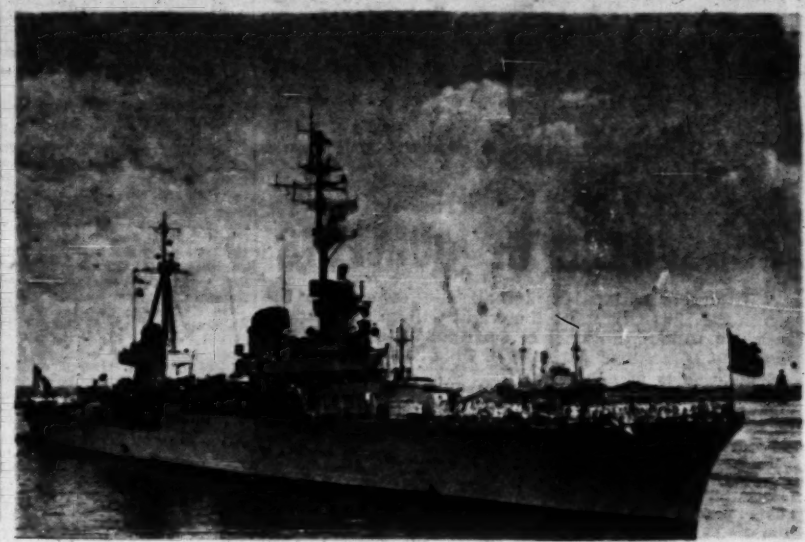

When a voice from the crowd cried: "Down with Karamanlis," Grivas said: "Please, I am against no one... I simply believe we need a political reformation for the good of the people and the nation."

Test Launching Of Nike-ASP Rocket

WALLOPS ISLAND, Virginia (Reuters).—The first of a series of the new American Nike-ASP research rockets was launched on Monday from Wallops Island, off the coast of Virginia.

The rocket, launched from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration station on the island, left a yellow-orange cloud which was visible over much of Virginia's seaboard.

The rocket, a 100-mile sodium vapour trail from a height of 50 miles upwards.

Italian Naval Ship on Courtesy Visit

Italian Naval Ship on Courtesy Visit

HAIFA. — The Italian 9,000-ton naval training cruiser Montecuccoli arrived here on Monday morning for a three-day visit. She is the first Italian naval vessel to visit Israel.

The ship carries a crew of 600 and 148 cadets of the Italian Naval Academy, as well as a number of men from other navies.

During their stay, the officers are to fly to Eilat as the guests of the Israel Navy.

The Captain of the 31-year-old ship, Capitano di Vascello Luigi Vivaldi, told the press that his vessel is on a two-month Mediterranean cruise to mark the end of the term at the Academy.

She has been visiting ports of friendly countries, and came here from Alexandria. Her next port of call is Beirut.

On arriving in Haifa Port, the Montecuccoli fired a 21-gun salute which was answered by an Israel Navy vessel. After the Italian ship was tied up at the main quay, Capt. Vivaldi came ashore for a series of courtesy calls on the Mayor, the District Representative, the Italian Ambassador (who was at the Consulate) and Navy Headquarters. The visits were later returned.

On Monday, the Israeli Ambassador to Britain, Mr. Eliahu Elath, the Israeli Ambassador to the U.N., will actively participate in the proposed new World Bank project which will make loans to under-developed countries, repayable in local currency.

The sharp condemnation of dictators marked the final working session of the conference. It came as word arrived here that the chief of the Cuban armed forces, Major Raul Castro, brother of the Cuban Premier, stopped off in Lima, Peru, en route to the conference.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Burmese Premier To Visit UAR in Autumn

CAIRO (Reuters).—General Ne Win, the Burmese Prime Minister, has accepted an invitation to visit the U.A.R. this autumn, the Burmese Embassy announced here on Monday.

An Embassy spokesman said it had been proposed that the visit should take place at the end of September, but the precise date had not been fixed yet.

General Ne Win was in Israel in June for an eight-day visit as the guest of the Government.

2 Die, 10 Hurt in Accidents

Two people died and 10 were injured in a number of accidents in various parts of the country on Monday.

A soldier was killed and two others seriously injured when a Tel Aviv-bound command car hit a tree at the Beit Lid intersection. The two injured were taken to Beilinson Hospital.

A two-year-old girl from Beit Sahaf, near Jerusalem, was hit by a train while playing on the tracks on Monday. The carter saw her, but could not stop the train in time. A passing tender took her to Hadassah Hospital, where both her legs were amputated. Her condition is reported to be grave.

In Mooshav Enayah, a tractor overturned while crossing a gully and the driver, Mr. Turvis Cohen, was killed. In the North, an unlicensed tractor belonging to the Kadourie School collided with a

OAS Raps Rule Of Dictators

By JESSE ZEL LURIE,
Jerusalem Post Correspondent

NEW YORK. — West Germany, although not a member of the U.N., will actively participate in the proposed new World Bank project which will make loans to under-developed countries, repayable in local currency.

The sharp condemnation of dictators marked the final working session of the conference. It came as word arrived here that the chief of the Cuban armed forces, Major Raul Castro, brother of the Cuban Premier, stopped off in Lima, Peru, en route to the conference.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Bonn to Participate In New Loan Agency

By JESSE ZEL LURIE,
Jerusalem Post Correspondent

NEW YORK. — West Germany, although not a member of the U.N., will actively participate in the proposed new World Bank project which will make loans to under-developed countries, repayable in local currency.

The sharp condemnation of dictators marked the final working session of the conference. It came as word arrived here that the chief of the Cuban armed forces, Major Raul Castro, brother of the Cuban Premier, stopped off in Lima, Peru, en route to the conference.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

Presenting the Declaration of Santiago, the Brazilian delegate, Mr. Santiago Dantas, said its purpose was to "proclaim explicitly that democracy represents the concrete ideals of institutions responding to the lively awareness of the American people."

It recommended that the Inter-American peace commission should study measures to curtail outside activities which lead to aggression or intervention in countries engaged in civil struggle and noted that the right of political exiles to sanctuary should be preserved.

De Gaulle Said Making New Algeria Peace Call

Hussein Shies At Pact with U.A.R.

LONDON (INA).—King Hussein in an interview published on Monday in the "Daily Mail" said: "I do not foresee the possibility of entering into an military alliance with the U.A.R. Our past discourages such a step."

He added, however, that "this would not stop us from coming to the aid of President Nasser if he were attacked, say, by Israel."

Commenting on the "Palestine problem," he said: "Jordan is carrying by far the greatest share of the burden by accommodating by far the greatest number of refugees."

Hussein, who is to receive President Nasser in Jordan, spoke of his plans for his country. "We look forward to a period of peace and quiet. There is a change in the people's attitude here in Jordan. What has taken place in Iraq showed that Communists are not acceptable. What my people need above all now is stability," he added.

Britain on Monday formally welcomed the re-establishment of diplomatic relations between Jordan and the U.A.R. announced in Cairo on Sunday.

Closer to Arabs
A Foreign Office spokesman told his daily press conference: "May I say how much we welcome the establishment of diplomatic relations." He added: "We in general welcome closer relations between all Arab states."

The "Times," in an editorial on Monday on the resumption of Jordan-U.A.R. relations, said: "Ultimately a stable Middle East will be created only by the countries that form it. The Arab world is a single entity. It is not possible while Israel exists. The present relationships between Cairo and Baghdad, however, argue that Israel is not the only reason for Middle Eastern discord.... Perhaps President Nasser, faced with the implacable hostility of Iraq and Israel, is patching up his lesser disputes while he still can."

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

Abbas Said Prepared To Reach Terms

HAMBURG (Reuters).—Fehrat-Abbas Prime Minister of the "Provisional Algerian Government," said in an interview reported in the West German weekly "Der Spiegel" on Monday that his "Government" was prepared to come to terms with the French. He said it was "ready to meet French Government representatives to negotiate on the Algerian question, without preliminary conditions and without a fixed agenda."

"What we cannot accept is that we return again to the colonial or semi-colonial status quo after five years of war," Abbas said in an answer to a "Spiegel" reporter's questions in Cairo. "The only possible solution is an independent Algeria," he added.

Abbas said the French Government's "peace of the brave" offer meant the unconditional capitulation of the Algerian "Liberation Army." "That is unacceptable to us."

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

He said rumours of secret contacts between France and the rebel F.L.N. had been spread by the French to influence United Nations delegates before the U.N. debate on Algeria.

At the same time, M. Debre warned the U.S. and other allies against flirting with France's enemies. "France must make her allies understand her right to demand from them all their complete support in a cause far surpassing the interests of one generation or one people," he declared, intimating that President Eisenhower, when he visits Paris, will be met with a firm request for support of General de Gaulle's peace move.

The Weather

	Jerusalem	Tel Aviv	Haifa	Beersheba
Max	28	30	32	30
Min	18	20	22	20
Wind	SE 10-15	SE 10-15	SE 10-15	SE 10-15
Clouds	Partly Cloudy	Partly Cloudy	Partly Cloudy	Partly Cloudy

ARRIVALS

Dr. M. Wasser, Director of Malheur-J.D.C. and the Department from Europe.

Mr. E. Geller, Chairman of the Hebrew University's Executive Council, arrived from Stockholm on Monday to participate in the meeting of the World Jewish Congress, with Mrs. Geller.

Mr. Peretz Leshem, Israel Consul in Moscow, on completion of his tour of duty, (by El Al).

Mr. Isaac Renshaw, editor of "Haaretz," from the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm, (by El Al).

DEPARTURES

Mr. Menahem Danin, newly-appointed First Secretary at the Israel Legation in Budapest, to take up his post, (by El Al).

Mr. Abraham Khan of the Ministry of Agriculture, for a four-month training course in organization and administration in the U.S., (by El Al).

Mr. Zeev Gidon (Grodzenski), former manager of the Cargil Plant, on a business trip to Europe, (by Swissair).

Dr. Blanca Stabile, of the Argentine Ministry of Labour, after a week's visit, (by Air France).

Nazareth Mayor Returns to Office

Jerusalem Post Reporter

NAZARETH. — Mayor Amin Jarjoura was back at his desk in the town hall on Monday after an absence of over a fortnight.

He went on "strike" at the beginning of the month when he was slapped by a local resident, Ibrahim Hakek, who is now on bail pending trial.

The suba committee has broken up following several unsuccessful attempts to reconcile the Mayor and the Hakek family. The Municipal Council requested that Jarjoura not to accept reconciliation until after Hakek's trial.

Gov't to Spend IL2m. for Factory Sites in Development Towns

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Housing Division of the Labour Ministry will spend another IL2m. together with the Ministry of Commerce and Industry on industrial sites in development towns, the Director of the Housing Division, Mr. David Tanne, told the press on Monday.

A total of IL1m. will be invested in building structures for industry and the second million on laying roads and installing water and electricity facilities. Some 10,000 sq.m. of floor space will be rented out to artisans. The money will be earmarked for sites in Dimona, Ofakim, Kiryat Shmona, Beisan, Ashkelon, Kiryat Gat and to a lesser extent to Beersheba, he added.

Within the next few days, the Labour Ministry will publish its plan for rebuilding substantial housing sites, especially in urban areas, such as the "Shehak Hagadol" in Jaffa, which would be completely destroyed, he said.

Rebuilding Plan

This rebuilding plan is in keeping with promises given by the Minister, Mr. Mordechai Namir, to the Knesset, he said. The Ministry will do something about all poor housing and would do its best to complete its massive housing programme.

The main purpose of the Ministry's programme will be to repair housing in abandoned property sites and extensive slum clearance, especially in Tel Aviv-Jaffa and Jerusalem, Mr. Tanne explained. The programme includes the replacement of the 2,000 remaining temporary houses in blockhous in moshavim by more permanent structures, he added.

The Ministry's latest survey has shown that 19,795 houses were built by the Government between 1948 and September 1958 in immigrant moshavim, and nearly 3,000 homes in middle-class villages. The average members of veteran kibbutzim live at the level of persons in Popular Housing, namely, by 30 sq.m. of floor space per family.

In reply to a question con-

J.N.F. Refers Issue Of Forest Post to Committee

Jerusalem Post Reporter

In a four-hour session yesterday afternoon, the Jewish National Fund's Board of Directors decided to refer to a committee of seven Board members the question of who will head the afforestation division of the new National Land Development Authority being set up in accordance with the J.N.F.'s as yet unsigned covenant with the Government.

The Board appointed its Chairman ex-officio to be Chairman of the National Land Development Authority Council (now Dr. A. Granot); Mr. Yosef Weitz as Director of the Authority; and his assistant in the J.N.F. Land Division, Mr. Elshon Ben-Shimon, to be his Deputy in the Authority.

The committee which is to examine the entire structure of the new Authority and to decide on the appointment of divisional heads is composed of Messrs. D. Auster, A. Hertzfeld, S. Ussishkin, R. Arzi, Y. Ziv-Av, M. Chanael and R. Cohen. It is expected to be convened shortly, but may sit for some weeks before it begins its broad terms of reference.

In the meantime, the present land development administration of the J.N.F. is to carry on in its present composition.

The Board, which met in special session after having been unable to arrive at a decision last week, did not take any stand on the question of principle whether Mr. Sharon Weitz should direct the afforestation department of the Authority of which his father, Mr. Yosef Weitz, has been appointed head.

The question of the property of the father-son relationship had been raised by the Controller of the Jewish Agency in a letter to the Board and had been mentioned in open letters to the Board signed by prominent public figures. During the discussion, which was held in a calm atmosphere, the J.N.F. affairs had been managed under fire.

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

'Weak Immigrant' Said Needing Special Care

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Head of the Jewish Agency's Absorption Department said on Sunday that a "weak immigrant" needs special care and attention.

The Jewish Agency Executive, at its weekly meeting Monday, continued to discuss the absorption and integration of immigrants. It will sum up the discussion at future meetings. The Agency spokesman pointed out that reports submitted to the Executive by absorption and settlement officials indicated that the Agency's policy in these fields was based on the principle of equality, irrespective of country of origin of the immigrants.

At the meeting, Mr. Ya'acov Tsafir, former Ambassador to France, reported on the condition of French Jewry over the past six years, and also on Jewry in North Africa.

Mr. Leo Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

Mr. L. Dulitzin, Head of the Economic Department, presented the findings of a committee which studied a plan for the immigration and integration of 300 families from Western countries.

A report on the recent conference of the World Jewish Congress in Stockholm was submitted by Mr. E. Granot, who had represented the Agency at the meeting.

SALOMON FAMILY JOINS ZION IN HUNGER STRIKE

TEL AVIV. — Four members of the Salomon family of Kibbutz Givat Brenner joined their brother Zion in a hunger strike in the kibbutz on Monday. They charged that the settlement has refused to pay for legal counsel to represent Zion in the case involving charges against him of murdering his wife Avigail last January.

Zion himself proclaimed a hunger strike in Ramle prison on Sunday. The four Salomons who joined the strike are Zion's five children — a 15-year-old father, his brother Pinhas, who had also been suspected of the murder but was released some time ago; his sister, Rachel; and Avigail's sister, Lea, who is married to Pinhas.

They claimed that the settlement had originally offered to appoint a lawyer to defend Zion, but had refused to pay for the services of a lawyer whom the family had retained.

In an open letter published on Monday, the secretary of the Kibbutz Hanevad, the movement to which Zion's family is affiliated, denied that it had ever been approached by members of the family to provide legal aid for Zion.

It is understood that the suggestion broached in an open letter to Dr. Granot that a tender be issued for the post of afforestation chief to select the man best qualified was brought up by Mr. Ziv-Av but was turned down.

Y. Guttman, Matti Meged Getting J'lem Prizes

The two Jerusalem prizes for Jewish scholarship and for literature are to be presented to Professor Yehoshua Guttman, Associate Professor of Jewish Hellenism at the Hebrew University, and to Matti Meged, the writer, respectively, at a ceremony at the Municipality on Wednesday evening. The scholarship prize is given in memory of David Yellin.

Prof. Guttman will receive the award for his work "The Beginnings of Jewish Hellenistic Literature," published by Moshe Shapira last year, which deals with the period up to the time of the Hasmoneans.

The prize for literature is given to Matti Meged for his Binetiv Hapalmah ("In the Path of the Palmach"), also published last year.

U.S. Firm to Report On Fuller Use of Refineries

HAIFA. — A report by the Kellogg Company, a U.S. industrial advisory firm, on ways and means of utilizing the capacity of the refineries in the city of Haifa is expected to be submitted to the Controller of the Jewish Agency in a letter to the Board and had been mentioned in open letters to the Board signed by prominent public figures. During the discussion, which was held in a calm atmosphere, the J.N.F. affairs had been managed under fire.

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

The meeting was preceded by the morning session of a five-hour session of a five-man advisory committee which tried to work out a com-

Accused of hoodlomanism in Beersheba, Prosper Ben-Mahlot Ben-Gigi, (second from right), and Moshe Ben-David Nahmias sit between two policemen in the dock in the Jerusalem Magistrate's Court. (Photo by Braun)

IN BEERSHEBA RIOT TRIAL:

THE JERUSALEM POST

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211. Telegrams: "Jerusalem Post".

Subscription prices: P.O. Box 1118, Tel. 2211/2. Annual subscription: P.O. Box 1118, Tel. 2211/2.

Advertising rates: P.O. Box 1118, Tel. 2211/2. Single copies: P.O. Box 1118, Tel. 2211/2.

Printed by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

Published by the Palestine Post Ltd. at 10, Market Street, Jerusalem. Telephone 2211.

He Dislikes Nixon, Rockefeller

But Khrushchev May Help Pick New U.S. President

By PHILIP DEANE

WASHINGTON (OFNS)—

THE choice between Mr. Richard Nixon and Mr. Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican Presidential candidate next year may well be influenced more by Mr. Khrushchev than by Mr. Eisenhower.

President Eisenhower has no great liking for either of his party's leading candidates.

The President, however, has everything in the U.S. as well as in the U.S.S.R. as well as in the U.S.S.R.

Little or nothing needs improving. That economic growth need only be fast enough to keep pace with the increase in population—which is not, in effect, economic growth.

The tight budgets of this Administration, and the economic sanctions emanating from the White House that growth leads inevitably to inflation, all these are symptoms of a policy that is a faith in a graph that goes neither up nor down.

The Cabinet member who principally supports the President's policy is Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson, and Mr. Eisenhower is doing his best to make Anderson a leading Republican contender for the Presidency.

This is a natural reaction on the President's part. Mr. Nixon and Mr. Rockefeller are "dynamists" rather than "statists." Both have told me, on the record, that they think the U.S. economy must grow much faster, that budget-cutting considerations should not enter into the way what needs to be done, and in their freely expressed view much more needs to be done than Mr. Eisenhower has contemplated.

Herter Replaces Nixon

Both Nixon and Rockefeller want much more foreign aid, much more domestic aid, and they want to pay for these extra activities by making the economy grow faster so that there is more national income to tax. They feel that growth is attainable without inflation, provided extensive Government controls are used.

Mr. Nixon and Mr. Rockefeller are concerned about social stability, which they feel requires a citizen the promise of continuous material betterment.

This is so much against the philosophy of the President that he is doing as little as he can to help these two candidates for the Presidency.

He has often appeared antagonistic to Mr. Nixon. He made a point at a recent Press conference to state that he only told Nixon at the very last moment before the latter left for Russia, of a Jewish delegation to Israel.

There is some evidence that the Vice-President's success in debate with the Soviet leader has not entirely pleased Mr. Eisenhower. This may be the reason for the decision to have the Secretary of State, Mr. Christian Herter, accompany Mr. Khrushchev around the U.S. even though it is the Vice-President's function to replace the President.

Formidable Candidate

This may not necessarily harm Mr. Nixon. Mr. Herter is no match for Khrushchev, and if there are any debates between them, comparisons favourable to Nixon will inevitably be drawn. Mr. Nixon has created a valuable image of himself as a man who can handle the Russians, who does not fear debate with them. This Administration's public position for years has been "no summit meetings because the Russians will run away with the propaganda honours." Until the Nixon visit, most U.S. newsmen would have agreed with this. Even Mr. Dulles was too much the cold corporate lawyer, brilliant in making a case, but lacking the vividness that Khrushchev and Nixon both have and which captures the popular imagination.

Old, confirmed foe of the Vice-President is now praising him. He has grown in his job, the critics say. Obviously the U.S. has resented being out-manoeuvred by the Russians. All these Eisenhower years and even dyed-in-the-wool liberals are going around saying: "You've got to hand it to Nixon. He can handle them. That's what we need." This image will not be allowed to disappear by Mr. Nixon, of course, and when added to his dynamism, his good relations with labour, his superlative skill as a campaigner, it makes him a formidable candidate to beat.

Stealing the Show

Governor Rockefeller also has assets. He is not suspect to the liberals. He is in no way associated with McCarthyism, as Mr. Nixon once was. He has almost irresistible charm on television, is truly able and commands enormous funds for his campaign. He is much more palatable to Democrats than is Nixon, and the Republicans, who are the minority party, cannot elect a President without Democratic votes.

Mr. Rockefeller's legislative programme is very progressive—middle-income housing, development with private capital, a system of health insurance for all citizens of New York State, civil defence shelters, care for the

THE AMERICAN SCENE

OF MICE AND MEN...

By Patrick O'Donovan

WASHINGTON (OFNS)—

THERE is a suffocating familiarity about the part of the new school term in Little Rock. Governor Faubus spoke on television the night before the schools opened and an honest man could not tell whether he was for or against the use of violence in keeping the Negroes out of the Arkansas schools. But once again, he suggested that violence might occur and that he would do little about it.

And when the school opened, there was the familiar hurrying of a tiny group of Negro children up the long, narrow footpath into the school. There was the same, small, specialized mob, calling on the radio, equating the mixed education with Communism and cowardice, carrying honourable flags and semi-literate placards, using the same old tactics that find courage in a crowd. There are only six Negroes in the once-white schools and no one can say what will happen to them.

The local police are determined to maintain the rule of law. Police Chief Gene Smith, a Southerner and a segregationist, displayed cold courage in facing the crowd.

There is a new school board, who opened the schools against the Governor's wishes. (All the four white private schools that were opened on a segregated basis when the Government schools were closed have failed.) The school board was elected against the wishes of the Governor. Its chairman is a Southern gentleman, almost in the theatrical "Gone With The Wind" tradition. His attitude is conservative, aristocratic and legal. He detests integration, but believes the law must prevail. Hence the symbolic six.

And, finally, the businessmen and the shopkeepers are now all in favour of moderation. Not a single factory or workshop has been opened in the city from out-of-town since 1957 and the reason is simply the political turmoil. There is a tiny revolution nibbling the pellets of dry food. Depending on how they are bred, a pair of mice can fetch anything from $8 to $25 cents each. Some, for instance, are bred by mating brothers and sisters to produce a strain 95 per cent of whose females develop cancer. The place will make $60,000 this year from its mice sales.

Mice are particularly valuable in research. They bear a useful resemblance to humans, with similar blood, tissues and physical structure and they suckle their young.

They are easy to feed and to breed and the humane societies do not make a fuss about them. There seems to be a limit to man's organ- ized kindness. It embraces dogs, cats, even rabbits; it regularly excludes rats, mice, fruit flies and gila monsters. Is there an aesthetic quotient in compassion?

Mouse Factory

In the far northern State of Maine, in the solemn little town of Bar Harbor, there is a mouse factory. It produces all kinds of mice. There are hairless mice (for cosmetic research), pink-eyed mice (for research in heredity), mice with curly tails and mice that quiver, waddle, lurch or run around in circles. And some of them are as inbred as Egyptian Pharaohs, and for the same reason.

They are produced in the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, some 1,800,000 of them a year. As its director says, "This Lab. by developing inbred strains of mice and furthering their use in biological research for 30 years, has been a major factor in making the mouse the invaluable research tool it has become."

Of the nearly 2,000,000 new mice produced in the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory each year, about half are retained by the "lab" for breeding and their own researches. The rest are flown to other parts of America as inbred strains. This Lab. is a perforated box with a potato, which provides both food and water. The output, however, is not big enough to supply the million dollar extension to their breeding facilities.

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

PLEASE, MAY I PASS?

New Israel Opera Lacks Fire

THIS is the first Israel opera to be staged in a long time — since Lavry's "Dan Hashomer" — and it is highly commendable that the "Israel National Opera" undertook the task of acquainting our public with this work.

The story of the abortive revolt and death of the Hashomer (the "Dan Hashomer") is told in six scenes, does not bring dramatic situations and developments sufficiently out into the open to make one believe the happenings. It all has the air of a Sunday school Bible play with no real people in it, and is aggravated by the wooden movements of the actors.

Only Emanuel Menkes as King Herod attempts some real acting, but rather overdoes it. The leading ladies, Naomi Pinkus (Alexandra) and Rema Samsonov (Salina) stood out with good voices and clear pronunciation. The tenor, Yakov Roden (Honore), seemed uncomfortable in his uniform, and his sword proved a handicap to his movements, though his voice lent itself to his part quite successfully.

Supporting parts were on the whole satisfyingly sung by Fredy Levy (Dinai), Ino Toper (Bar-Hama) who has a fine Baritone, and Mezo-Soprano Rina Haimoff (Ima-Shalom). Less so, I Bekarski (Azaria) and Josef Pollak (Rabbi Avdimov), whose singing was largely unintelligible. The choir was well prepared (for which Dr. H. Pinkus apparently deserves the credit) and kept in step with the conductor nearly all the time. Quite a remark-</